I wish to support the new evidence contained in the draft version of the above relating to all the gaps. These gaps are between Crookham Village and the surrounding areas of Church Crookham, Fleet and Dogmersfield

Such gaps are important and necessary to prevent the joining up of the village to the encroaching sprawl of Fleet and Church Crookham. They are needed to maintain the existing character and independent setting of the Village.

I lived in the Village for 28 years before moving a short distance away, but still return to walk one or more of the several footpaths which criss cross the village, and the Canal with it's tow path. There are still rural views which can be enjoyed from several vantage points in the Village.

These gaps therefore must be maintained in order to preserve such enjoyment; long may they last.
